Emergency Needs Of County

Little revealed by the recent grand jury's report on the need for a new county jail was new to the people of Columbiana county. Cost of board and transportation was based on latest expense accounts; otherwise the story was the same as every grand jury had told ever since the old jail in Lisbon was torn down. But it was a more impassioned plea for action than had come from any previous jury. It went to great length to emphasize the "tragic" condition, appealed to our "civic pride" and insisted upon prompt corrective measures.

The jurors might have added some details about the manner in which Columbiana's prisoners are treated when they become mere boarders in Mahoning's jail, if reports coming from the sheriff's office from time to time could be verified. The report also might have referred to the inconveniences and expense in criminal cases before the Lisbon court because the accused are so far from the court house. It was not its obligation, but it might have helped had the jury recommended a modest structure that would not be too great a financial burden on the county.

In spite of the fact that county jail bond issues have been voted down on two or three occasions, those most familiar with all the circumstances recognize the need for a new jail in Columbiana county. But that need is not much more pressing today than it has been for some time, and certainly not nearly so pressing as other county needs at the moment. The greatest emergency in the county today is proper care of tuberculosis patients. County jail or no county jail, the T.B. situation should command first attention, and should continue to be the all-absorbing pursuit of county officials until present conditions are remedied.

Not every one in the county is satisfied with the muddle the T.B. fund was placed in when it was included with other county issues of less importance in the one mill tax levy at the November election. And the fact that no T.B. fund would be available in 1946 certainly was not made clear to the people of the county, if revealed at all before the tax levy vote. Even if misrepresentation of conditions was not intended, the people do not like to be only partially informed. They have a right to know all the facts and the conditions producing those facts.

County commissioners now are trying to get help from the state and whatever success they have will prove helpful in the county's emergency. But a permanent solution is in a tax levy specifically and solely for T.B. care. No other issues must be joined with it to confuse the voters. They are thoroughly aroused by the seriousness of the situation in this county and they'll give a T.B. tax levy their support if the opportunity is presented.

Time To Shift The Argument

Criticisms and accusations against the War department in the demobilization argument have multiplied to such a deluge that there is no use trying to handle each one separately. As Gen. Eisenhower admits by resorting to the radio to explain War department demobilization policy, the situation has reached the near-crisis level.

It would be a good time to shift the argument and give the critics a chance to tell the country what they would do, instead of listening to them explain what the War department shouldn't do. They imply that there is a satisfactory alternative, but they have not explained what it is. Even the critics do not want the United States to shrink back into isolation; most of them merely want to get rid of their particular part of the price of international cooperation.

Americans are fond of the privilege of booing the umpire, which in a sense is what they are doing when they jump on the War department for not bringing everybody home who wants to come home. But fair Americans also admit that if they were the umpire they would do the same thing he is doing. There is reminder in the demobilization hysteria for an occasional reminder that the War department is merely doing its job, which is to carry out the military commitments of the United States.

The Chinese Do It Better

Phil Murray, Bill Green, John L. Lewis and others of our deep-dish labor leaders could probably take a lesson in strike technique from the transit workers of Shanghai, China. Shanghai's streetcar and bus operators are on strike, but they're staying on the job. They simply continue running their vehicles and refuse to accept fares from the passengers.

That, we think, is pretty slick. It is particularly slick coming from a people whom most Americans consider backward and impractical, except in such matters as pottery and painting and Confucian philosophy. Maybe there is a touch of Confucius in their strike. At any rate, it seems like a wonderful way to win friends and sympathy and influence people to your cause.

The strikers lose no more money than if they were picketing. And since they ride instead of walk, they're more comfortable. The company loses more than if its cars and buses were standing strike-bound in the barns. And the public has a wonderful time.

How would it be if we tried the same thing in this country? Telegrams (including the singing ones) would be on the house. So would long-distance calls. Packinghouse workers would toss chops and steaks like confetti to the cheering crowds. New cars would roll off the General Motors assembly lines and into the eager hands of a waiting multitude outside, with the compliments of R. J. Thomas, Walter Reuther, and the boys and girls of the U.A.W. It would be just one long free load and chinaware night.

And so on, ad infinitum and probably ad delirium

—though it is not our intention to be facetious. For our union leaders seem to be departing farther and farther from the policy of good sense exhibited in the Shanghai strike, and that is a serious thing.

The Shanghai strikers have confined their protests to the proper sphere. Their quarrel is with their employers. They are conducting the fight effectively, imaginatively and with a good humor. The public not only escapes any hardship, but must also be delighted with the whole thing.

Here in this country, the growing wave of strikes continues to hit the public harder than it does management. Millions of people with no direct or intimate concern with the various disputes are getting heartily sick of the resulting annoying inconvenience.

Labor has nothing discernible to gain from such things as the recent telephone sympathy strike. The public already knows that labor is strong. It needs no more convincing like the phone tieup, a pointless and unwarranted demonstration of solidarity that was simply a pain in the neck that didn't avail anyone anything.

The public likewise knows that management is strong and that it can be stubborn. What the public wants is to see labor and management reach their inevitable compromise agreements and get production going. Solidarity and ideology and the rest of the polysyllabic obstructions are getting downright tiresome.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, January 23.

CERTAIN excellent prospects could be negated by false moves, reckless errors or judgments unless a strict leash be kept on tongue, temper and emotions. Sudden disruptions or upsets of sound plans and policies, unless calm and considerate reflection be wisely and shrewdly brought to bear on important matters.

Deception, trickery and misconstrued writings or documents. Sudden change or travel is possible, with surprising results, of large scope and future importance. Shun all snap judgments and rash moves.

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of important change with travel, new contracts of major significance. But all such openings warrant slow, deliberate and sound decisions, since they affect seriously the security and happiness of life.

There is danger from duplicity, wrong decisions and erroneous judgment, as well as fraud or pernicious undercurrents. Sidestep all intrigues or secret agreements.

Varicose Ulcers of the Leg

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

AN ulcer refers to a condition in which there is a loss of tissue. It can occur on most any part of the body, and not infrequently, ulcer develops on the leg. Ulcer of the leg may be produced in various ways such as the result of pressure, due to confinement to bed for a long time, or from wearing a cast.

Varicose ulcer develops because of slowing of the flow of blood through the veins which are enlarged or dilated. When the blood flow is slowed down, the nutrition of the tissue suffers.

Certain infections such as tuberculosis which may cause ulcer of the skin of the leg. Ulcer of the leg may also develop in cancer or diabetes. These ulcers often may not produce any pain. However, when pain is present it is usually worse at night, probably because the leg becomes warm due to the bed covering and moisture.

Itching and burning are commonly present. Before an ulcer forms, there is usually some redness of the skin. The redness increases and burning and smarting develop. Then finally the skin rash breaks down and the ulcer forms.

Determine Cause

If ulcer of the leg is present, of course, studies should be made to determine the cause. There are various tests which may be carried out to determine whether or not the blood is circulating satisfactorily through the veins. For example, an elastic stocking may be worn by the patient for a few days to see if improvement occurs.

If the deep veins of the leg are not working properly, the wearing of this bandage will tend to make the symptoms worse. On the other hand, if the trouble is due only to the surface veins, the wearing of the bandage will bring some improvement and a diagnosis can be made.

Bed Rest

According to Doctor Martin A. Teward of Portland, Oregon, patients with ulcer of the leg should be put to bed at rest. The leg should be kept raised and hot compress put on constantly if possible, until the redness and inflammation clear up. If the difficulty is due to trouble with the deep veins, an operation is performed, during which these veins are tied off and the flow of blood through them stopped.

Later on, injections may be given into other veins which are not working satisfactorily.

The ulcer itself may be treated with such preparations as gentian violet and a compression bandage. This causes healing to occur more rapidly. Of course, ulcers which are due to various diseases such as diabetes will improve when the underlying disorder is properly cared for.

Dr. Bundesen will answer letter-containing medical questions only through his column. Address your inquiries to Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Goshen Grange Enjoys Program At Meeting

Three new applications were received Friday evening by Goshen grange and after the meeting a birthday party was held. The lecture hour was devoted to preparation for the grange's program Wednesday afternoon at the Farmers institute, when a play will be presented and Goshen's "Kitchen Band" will make its first appearance.

The lecture hour of Goshen Juvenile grange was featured by a festival of song, when the 32 members and visitors responded by naming their favorite songs, and sang their selections. During the business session a contribution was made to the "March of Dimes."

Several of the juveniles are on the program of the Farmers institute when Goshen grange has charge of the program Wednesday.

MARINES CONTINUE SERVICE IN CHINA

Devildogs To Guarantee Peace Until Chinese Settle Disputes

(By Associated Press)
TIENTSIN, Jan. 22 — American marines probably will be kept in North China as a "stabilizing force" now that the repatriation of the Japanese has been turned over to the Chinese, Rep. Bates (R-Mass.), a member of the house naval affairs subcommittee, said here today.

Bates is in Tientsin with a naval affairs subcommittee.

The marines may be kept here some time longer as a stabilizing force while the good officers of the United States government are being used to reconcile the two Chinese forces into peaceful settlement," he said.

"We are interested in a permanent world peace. We are of the conviction that unless we lend a hand, another world conflagration may be in the making."

The committee of which he is a part is interested, he said, in four main problems: (1) Disposal of surplus naval material, (2) inspection of navy installation in the Pacific, (3) demobilization of the armed forces, and (4) general conditions in the Pacific areas captured or retaken from the Japanese.

"Now that China is being freed of the Japanese," he said, "we want to lay the foundations of a new government in China. We don't want to interfere in Chinese affairs, only insofar as those internal affairs of China concern world peace."

COLUMBIANA

Collection of clothing in Columbian for war sufferers in Europe will be made when the trucks canvas the area Thursday evening.

Carl L. Stacey is local chairman. Five trucks, with six men to each truck will make the collection, starting early in the evening. Citizens are requested to have their donations ready, properly done up in bundles or cartons, on the front porch or some place sheltered from possible inclement weather.

Donations may be left also at the Louven Dress shoppe.

Assisting Chairman Stacey of the committee are Russell Lindsay, Norman Detwiler, Kenneth Doud, Bill Miller and Olaf Todd.

Kiwanians Meet
Columbian Kiwanians, at their meeting last evening, in Stephens restaurant, observed the 31st anniversary of Kiwanis International.

Under the direction of Chairman Evan Bessinger, the Kiwanis education committee presented an unusual feature was a talk by Dr. C. W. Dewalt of Columbian, lieutenant governor of the tenth division.

Other speakers were members of the committee of Kiwanis education, Charles Keller and John Cabas.

Program chairman for the next four meetings will be: Jan. 28, Clyde Barrow; Feb. 4, H. J. Harrold; Feb. 11, A. M. Poulton; Feb. 18, Russell Barrow (ladies' night).

Earl Snyder was brought to his home yesterday from Salem City hospital, where he had been receiving medical treatment.

The Wesleyan Service guild of the Methodist church will meet at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Coyne, S. Elm st.

Pic Joe Burbick, in a recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Burbick, tells of having met at Amari, Japan, Olen Useton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Useton, also of Columbian. The meeting was a surprise to both, although both are members of the 81st "Wildcat" division. They spent a day together.

Returns Home
Mrs. Clyde Biddison has been brought to her home in Columbian from the South Side unit of the Youngstown hospital, where she underwent a goiter operation recently.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Windram left this week for a stay of several months in Florida.

The Fortnightly club will meet Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Kyser.

At the regular meeting of the Girl Scouts at 7 p. m. Wednesday, Mrs. J. R. Gilchrist will instruct in first aid.

Sergt. Edgar Moser, Jr., is spending a 30-day furlough at the home of his parents, E. Park ave. He has served nearly three years with the Marines, and will report to Bainbridge, Md., for re-assignment.

394 Jap Factories Taken By MacArthur As War Reparations

TOKYO, Jan. 22 — War plants which equipped Japan's losing bid for conquest were seized and placed under guard today by General MacArthur, who indicated many of the factories would go to Allied nations for reparations.

The Allied command took over 394 Japanese aircraft plants, army and navy arsenals and war laboratories. Among these were 265 aircraft and parts plants listed by the Allied reparations commission as "first priority material" for removal to other nations.

MacArthur ordered cancellation of any previous permits to the designated installations for conversions to peacetime production, unless the installations were "immediately and absolutely essential to the civil economy."

The directive disclosed the Japanese had removed machinery from plants and equipment valued at millions of dollars had been allowed to deteriorate.

A story in the newspaper Yomiuri Hochi that the government had decided to abolish the entire peerage system drew an official denial.

"That is not planned at present, although it might happen later," Chief Cabinet Secretary Wataru Harahashi said.

Senate Shies From Proposed Hearings On Rapido Debacle

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 — Senate and house military committee chairmen showed little enthusiasm today for a requested investigation into the bloody Rapido river engagement in Italy.

The demand came from members of the 36th division association, meeting in Brownwood, Tex., Saturday on the eve of the second anniversary of their costly crossing of the heavily defended stream.

Rep. Andrew J. May (D-Ky.), chairman of the house military committee told a reporter today he could not see what good could be accomplished by an investigation now.

"It wouldn't bring back the lives of any of the men who were lost there," May declared.

May emphasized that if they receive the 36th division association resolution, they will refer it to the full membership of their respective committees for a decision.

The resolution declared that the division suffered nearly 2,900 casualties in the double crossing of the Rapido. It asked congress to investigate and "take the necessary steps to correct a military system that will permit an inefficient and inexperienced officer, such as Gen. Mark W. Clark, in a high command to destroy the young manhood of this country, and to prevent future soldiers being sacrificed wastefully and uselessly."

Clark, now American commander in the U. S. occupation zone of Austria, had no comment at Vienna. But the War department quickly came to his defense, saying the Rapido river action was a diversionary action to reduce German pressure against the Anzio beachhead.

Lady Astor Back In U. S. After Eight Year Absence

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 — American-born Lady Astor, a Virginia beauty who became the first woman member of the British parliament and aspired to be the first in the House of Lords, was back in the United States today after an absence of eight years.

Accompanied by Lord Astor, she departed yesterday from the fruit cargo ship Eros after a stormy, 14-day voyage.

Lady Astor, 66, who retired last year after 25 years in the House of Commons, disclosed plans to go to Boston and Florida after a family reunion in Virginia.

The directive disclosed the Japanese had removed machinery from plants and equipment valued at millions of dollars had been allowed to deteriorate.

A story in the newspaper Yomiuri Hochi that the government had decided to abolish the entire peerage system drew an official denial.

Does The Atom Bomb Explain Bible Miracles?

According to Edwin J. Dingle, world-renowned geographer, honored by leading geographical societies, the power of the atom as disclosed in the atom bomb, is small compared with little known and seldom used powers of the human brain. He maintains that man, instead of being limited by an average man power mind, has within him the mind power of a thousand men or more, as well as the energy power of the universe, which can be used in his daily affairs.

As part of a great movement to make his methods available to more people, a 600-word treatise is offered absolutely free for the time being. It reveals many startling results. Readers of this announcement can get their free copy by sending a post card or letter to the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 S. Hobart Blvd. Dept. W-397, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, because this offer may be withdrawn at any time.

He tells how he found these strange methods in far off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. Here, he discloses, he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. These immense powers, he maintains, are latent in all of us, and methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

Ferguson To Quiz Kimmel On Aerial Spying Of Enemy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21. — Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) sought today to find out how much the Army, Navy and State department knew of Japanese aerial spying over American possessions before Pearl Harbor.

Ferguson, awaiting his turn to question Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel at the senate-house committee hearing, told a reporter he has asked for State department documents concerning Japanese reconnaissance.

"I want to find out also if Admiral Kimmel knew that the Japanese were sending planes over our possessions before the war started," the Michigan senator said.

Noting an American plane's flight over Formosa had brought a Japanese protest in 1941, Ferguson said he wondered whether the State department had protested reported Japanese flights over the Philippines, Guam and other American possessions.

Ferguson contended if such flights were made and reported, they should have provided additional evidence the Japanese intended to go to war.

Kimmel, the former Pacific fleet commander, faced his sixth day on the stand before the inquiry group. Indications were that his testimony would be concluded and Maj.

Gen. Walter C. Short, Hawaiian army commander in 1941, summoned tomorrow or the next day to tell his story for the first time in a public forum.

Nazi Leaders Sponsored Black Market, Say French

NUERNBERG, Jan. 22 — Eager to strip occupied western countries of every scrap of food, even though it might mean famine, Hermann Goering and other Nazi leaders sponsored a huge German purchasing program on black markets in France and other occupied territories, the international military tribunal was told today.

The wild black market spree—into which the Nazis poured billions of francs seized from the French ostensibly to cover occupation costs—reached ludicrous proportions in 1942, with various German agencies bidding against one another, French war crimes prosecutors charged.

Particular Thieves
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22. — The thieves who broke into Actress Susan Hayward's car were mighty particular.

Police reported today they tossed away a white quilted robe, valued at $100. It was found in an alley.

Still missing, however, are two tailored suits and a second robe, valuation $290.

HARMONIOUS NOTE IN STEEL STRIKE

WEST COAST INDUSTRIALIST and newcomer to the automobile industry, Henry J. Kaiser (left) and Philip Murray, president of the CIO and United Steelworkers, are shown leaving the White House, where they announced that Kaiser had agreed to accept the President's proposal of an 18 1/2-cents-an-hour wage increase for his Fontana, Calif., steel mill, employing some 4,000 men. Three other small steel producers have also signed contracts with the union. (International Soundphoto)

They're The Tops

Bergman and Milland Win Honors for Best Screen Performances

Ray Milland, probable Academy award winner.

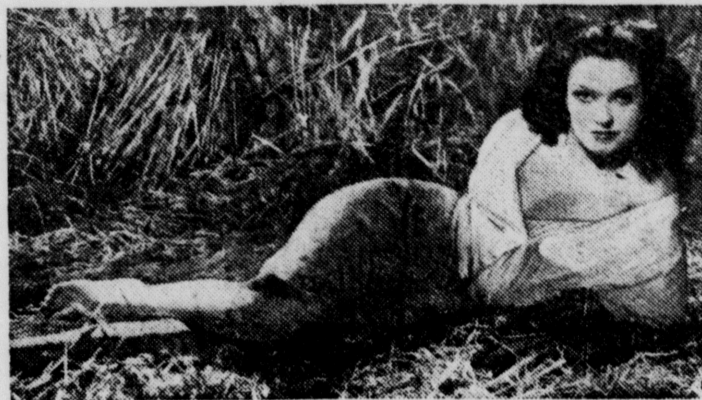

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD—Moviegoers will remember 1945 as the year Ingrid Bergman did it again, competing only with herself, and as the year Ray Milland won an Academy award co-starring with a bottle.

Ingrid and Ray were the tops in the year's best film performances, both assured of Academy Oscars come March. Ingrid for her work in "Spellbound" and "The Bells of St. Mary's" and Milland for his diplomancy in "The Lost Weekend." It will be Ingrid's second successive Oscar. Last year's was for "Gaslight."

There is no doubt, either, that Ingrid replaced Greer Garson as the years top money-making feminine star, with three major pictures to her credit. The third, "Saratoga Trunk," filmed two years ago, was released simultaneously with "The Bells." Ingrid's only competition was herself.

A holdover from last year's "Going My Way," Bing Crosby probably will top the money makers in the male star department, followed closely by Walter Pidgeon and Errol Flynn.

Contesting for the top picture of the year will be David O. Selznick's "Spellbound," "The Bells of St. Mary's," "Saratoga Trunk" and "The Lost Weekend." From a sheer entertainment standpoint, we like "Spellbound." It is the perfect movie. "The Lost Weekend" is daring realism. You can take your choice because even the shrewd Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences will find it difficult to decide between the two. "The Belis" may even split the voting and sneak in the winner.

New Stars
Because of high income taxes Hollywood's best-known name stars appeared in only one or two films in 1945, giving the unknowns another chance at stardom. Van Johnson, John Hodiak, Doree Clark, Dana Andrews, Bob Walker, Turhan Bey, Elizabeth Scott, Janice Paige and others became marquee favorites. But the end of the war sounded the death knell for most of the ersatz lovers, with names like Gable, Stewart, Fonda, Power, Payne, Romero and others back on studio payrolls.

The 1945 celluloid trend was away from war pictures to musicals, romantic comedies and psychopathic thrillers, but the real surprise of the year was that it became fashionable to be bad. The post War I flaming flapper became a prim and proper person alongside the vicious vampires and neurotics on the post World War II screen.

Sultry and ferocious heroines included Rita Hayworth, Barbara Stanwyck, Lynn Bari, Lana Turner, Jennifer Jones, Hedy Lamarr, Linda Darnell, Joan Bennett, Paulette Goddard and Gene Tierney.

Only male star to escape the type casting rut was Dick Powell, the song and dance man, who turned in a surprisingly good performance as a rough and ready private detective in "Murder My Sweet."

Strike Made News

The big new events of the year included the eighth-month studio strike, with more pickets in Hollywood than palm trees. Will Hays' retired as movie czar, to be succeeded by U. S. Chamber of Commerce president Eric Johnston. Betty Hutton's marriage, Maria Montez, Deanna Durbin and Judy Garland's retirements to keep dates with the stork, the deaths of Bob Benchley and Jerome Kern, the Lana Turner-Turhan Bey romance which ended at Ciro's one night, and the marriages of Shirley Temple and Sgt. Johnny Agar, June Allyson and Dick Powell, Red Skelton and Georgia Davis, Esther Williams and Ben Gage also made news.

And for the best crack of the year we still like Bob Hope's. He was doing a show at San Luis Obispo hospital when a pajama clad patient joined him at the mike and started ad libbing. They were going great until a man in a white coat came up and took the patient back to the mental ward. Said Bob, later:

"What worries me is that we were having what I thought was a well balanced conversation."

Poor Pomeranians

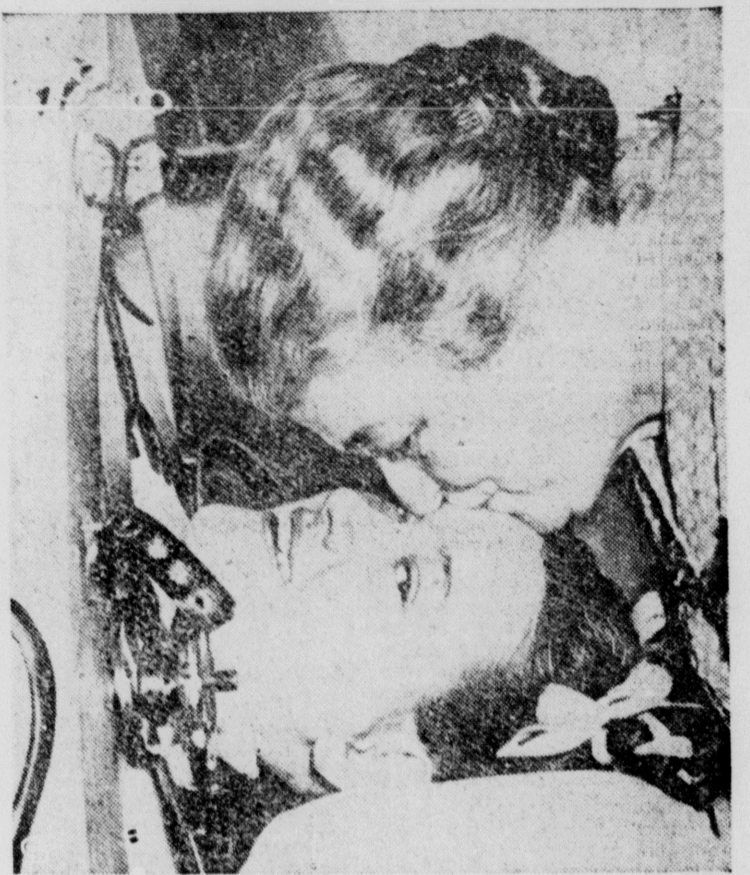

Peeking out of a paper sack at a cold, cruel world, these Pomeranian pups look longingly for someone who will provide a home. The abandoned puppies, about a year old, found a safe haven in the Chicago Animal Shelter, where they will receive tender care until some animal lover puts in a bid for them.

REUNION WITH HAPPY ENDING

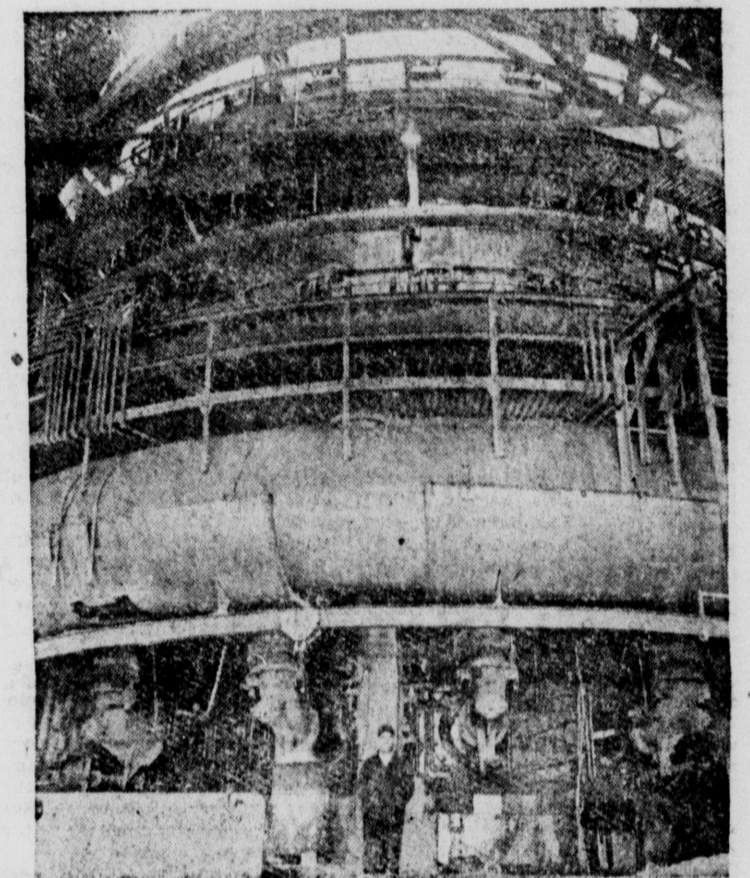

WEARING SANITARY MASKS, Lt. and Mrs. Keith Dubois, of Green Bay, Wis., are shown with their 8 1/2-month-old son, Allan, at the Memorial Cancer Center in New York after an "exceptionally successful" operation for cancer had been performed on the baby. The father was flown from Germany in an Army transport plane to his baby. (International)

THE COURAGE THAT WINS BATTLES

IF YOU FEEL THAT THE WORLD has been unkind to you, this picture will make you feel a little ashamed of yourself. The smiling face you see belongs to Trudy Brosenne, of Catonsville, Md., who is shown being greeted by her mother, Mrs. Beulah Brosenne, on her arrival in an iron lung. Trudy has been in the lung for 17 months and is still full of fight and the will to win her battle. (International Soundphoto)

Coals to Newcastle

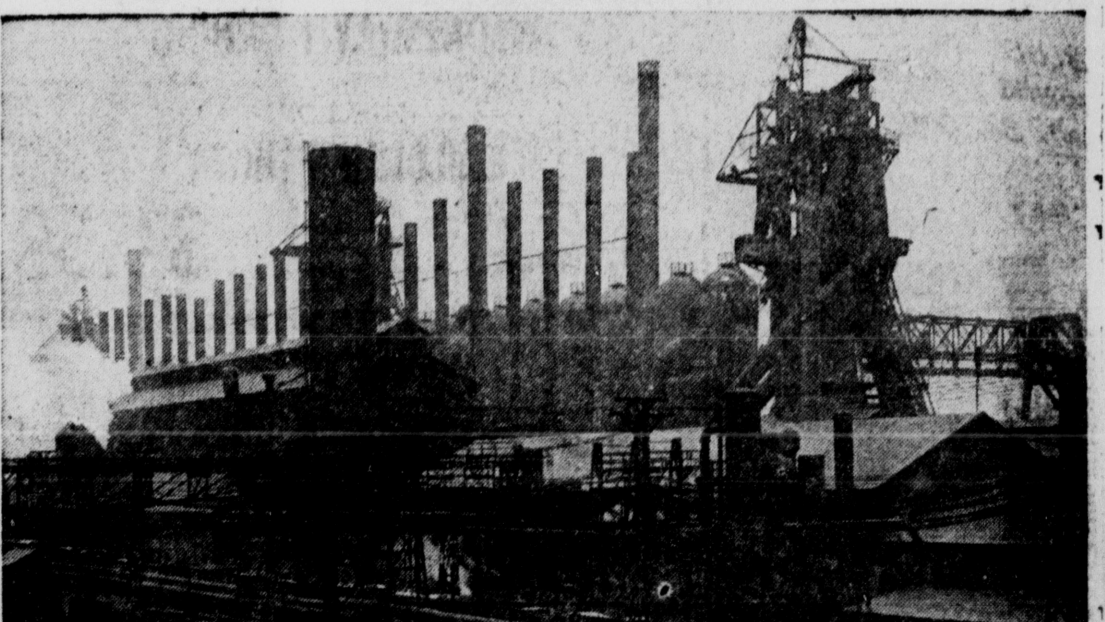

Seemingly a repetition of the adage denoting superfluity is the scene above where a maintenance man at a huge steel blast furnace has built a fire in an iron barrel. Necessity for the warmth arose from steel workers' strike which left Republic Steel's mill at Youngstown, Ohio, cold and idle.

Kaiser-Frazer Exhibit First Model

Coincident with Henry Kaiser's move toward labor peace in signing of a union contract in his West Coast steel plants, the Kaiser-Frazer Corp. exhibited its new automobile at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York. The car is the first low-priced American-built automobile equipped with front-wheel drive. (International Soundphoto)

Smoke of Industry Clears Away

Dark skies over the huge steel plants at Youngstown, Ohio, mean idle industries. Stacks at Republic Steel mill, ordinarily spewing clouds of black smoke, stand gaunt and empty as strike leaves open-hearth furnaces deserted.

STEEL STRIKE STRATEGY EMINATES FROM THIS GROUP

Nazarenes Retain Class "B" Lead With 27-25 Victory Over Panthers

One threat to the Nazarenes' first round title aspirations in the Class B city cage was removed last night at the Memorial building when the Nazarenes edged out the Panthers, 27-25, for their seventh straight win. The Churchmen were extended to the limit before racking up the victory.

Jack and Jerry Hanna, with 10 and nine markers, respectively, sparked the league's No. 1 team while Parlow scored 12 for the losers.

CLASS B STANDINGS

Won	Lost	Pct.
Nazarenes	7	0 1000
Buckeyes	5	1 833
Cavaliers	4	2 667
Redhots	4	3 571
Panthers	3	3 500
Corner	2	4 333
Wolverines	2	5 286
Rams	2	5 286
Lipperts	0	4 000

The Buckeyes stayed in the race with a 22-17 triumph over the Wolverines as Spratt set the pace with nine tallies. Harp and Bush capped scoring laurels for the Wolverines.

It was the fifth win in six outings for the Buckeyes and the sixth loss in seven starts for the Wolverines. A hot quarter in which they tallied 11 points while holding the Wolverines to a lone free throw clinched the win for the Columbiana quintet.

Lipperts' desperate last period rally against the Rams fell short and the league's newest team went down to its fourth straight defeat.

Harrington was key man in the Rams' second win with eight points while Jensen, Alexander and Whitacre contributed heavily in the scoring column. Al Zoccol, recently discharged from the army, sparked the Lipperts five with 12 points.

In their game with the Cavs, the Columbiana Redhots built up a sizable edge in the first half and then settled down to protect that lead. The two teams combined scored only one point in the final frame.

Parlow paced the Cavs with eight markers while Miller's 11 was high for the Redhots.

First round play in the "B" loop ends Thursday.

HONG KONG—Civilians weren't too happy about selection of Hong Kong as Britain's chief naval base in the Pacific. They like the protection of the fleet's guns, but they don't like competing with naval officers in finding flats and homes.

There is still a serious shortage in living quarters as the result of wartime bombing and looting. Many Portuguese and Chinese families are compelled to live in single rooms and no announcement has been made as to when British officers will be allowed to bring out their wives.

Hotels are packed and guests are crowded four to a room. Many are forced to bunk on army cots with only one blanket for warmth.

Rigid regulations have frozen rent scales at prewar levels, but landlords have borrowed the "key money" institution from Shanghai. Before new tenants can take possession of an apartment or house they must slip the landlord from $75 to $200 or more above the rent in order to get the key.

Authorities find it difficult to cope with this shady custom and indignant tenants who refuse to pay "key money" usually find they have to look elsewhere for quarters. It is as difficult to find them here as it is in New York or Washington.

Each week new lights shine from a few more houses on "the peak," the colony's elite residential district, but many of these battered houses have been so thoroughly looted of fixtures that it will take months to restore them. Building materials of any kind are extremely scarce.

One group of five enterprising young naval officers received permission to move temporarily into the residence of a wealthy Chinese surgeon. They scoured around and borrowed glass panes from the army to replace windows and managed to find enough beds and odd pieces of furniture to make the place livable. But they did their job too well.

"Now the owner wants to move in himself and throw us out," they mourned.

Old army men will find it hard to believe, but people line up here for a chance to buy corned beef. It's quite a delicacy to stomachs still foreshortened by wartime rationing.

This morning a crowd of 500 civilians, mostly Chinese, waited for hours for a store to open that was selling six pound cans of corned beef for six Hong Kong dollars—$1.50 in American money. Police had to be called to keep order.

"Most of these people don't want the corned beef to eat," complained one policeman. "The Chinese just take it out and sell it on the black market for three times what they paid for it. And there's no way we can stop them." You live by old rackets in Hong Kong. These people were doing it by standing in line.

Japanese war criminals in Stanley prison relax with an hour of group singing each week.

The colony joke is that their favorite foreign song is "There'll Always Be An England"—sung deadpan.

SENATE

not, however, through any wilful chicanery of Mr. Bulkley.

The short changing of McCulloch came about through an oversight of a special Ohio law fixing the starting time of a short term election as of Dec. 15 following his election in November. In probably every other instance where an officer is elected to fill an unexpired term, his term commences as soon as he qualifies after election by taking the oath and permitting himself to take over the office.

Everyone apparently thought the same held true for U. S. senator and Bulkley, elected in 1930, took over from McCulloch on Dec. 15—15 days before he legally was entitled to do so. The switch should have been made on Dec. 15.

Thus McCulloch lost 15 days and Bulkley gained that many. Bulkley got about $410 from Uncle Sam which McCulloch might have earned.

Marshall Confers With Chiang On China Peace

CHUNGKING, Jan. 22.—General Marshall conferred with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today for an hour. Although there was no immediate announcement, it was believed they discussed means of ending violations of the truce in China's civil strife.

Meanwhile, the armistice commission at Peiping directed opposing troops to withdraw promptly at least 20 miles from points of contact.

Springer Appeals Slot Machine Case

LISBON, Jan. 22.—Prosecutor Frank W. Springer today prepared to carry to the court of appeals a decision by Judge Joel H. Sharp in common pleas court in which the jurist ruled that money taken from seized slot machines must be returned to the owner of the machines.

The verdict and opinion of the court was handed down Monday in the case of Mary Ann Veon of Salem, who entered a plea of guilty last April to an indictment charging "the exhibition of gambling devices," and was fined $100 and costs. Mrs. Veon then made application to the court for the return of about $70 in the slot machines. Following tests of the machines a verdict was returned for $40 to Mrs. Veon.

Prosecutor Springer will appeal the case on a matter of law, claiming that the money taken from the confiscated gambling devices is a part of the machine, and as such, the money now held in a separate account, should be paid into the county general fund.

The appeal from the ruling in the common pleas court, will prove a test case for other gambling convictions in the court and the $782 taken from the slot machines seized in raids. The machines, nearly two dozen of them, still litter the sheriff's office pending an order for destruction. According to law all such gambling devices seized, must be destroyed.

OBITUARY

JESSE SCATTERGOOD

LEETONIA, Jan. 22.—Jesse Scattergood, 77, of 160 W. Main st., died at 6:30 p. m. yesterday at the Raney Nursing home, Salem, following an illness of several months.

Born in Hanoverton, he spent the past 59 years in Leetonia. His wife, Lulu, died in 1940. He was a charter member of the Salem Eagles lodge and the Moose lodge, also in Salem.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Lena Fermin, of Detroit.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Woods funeral home, in charge of Rev. W. J. Snyder, pastor of the Leetonia Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

Obstacles Block Vets' Purchase of Surpluses

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The American Legion said today it has found "impossible obstacles" in the way of veterans seeking to buy surplus government property.

Ralph H. Lavers, director of the Legion's employment division, said a tour indicated to him there "is a lack of organization in the disposal of surplus property" to veterans, for whom congress provided purchasing priorities.

"Too many agencies continue to be involved, such as the RFC, the Smaller War Plants Corp., and the maritime and military establishments," Lavers reported.

Leaves $100,000 Fund For Charitable Purposes

COLUMBUS, Jan. 22.—The late H. P. Wolfe, president of the Columbus Evening Dispatch and vice president of the Ohio State Journal Co., bequeathed $100,000 to religious and charitable organizations of Franklin county to be apportioned "without regard to race, color or creed."

Wolfe's will left $90,000 to 45 former business associates and various amounts to members of the family and friends, designating the remainder of the estate to be distributed equally among his three sons, Robert H. Preston and Richard S. Wolfe.

GEN. SHORT

mitted forced the revelation of the facts."

Short said that while he appreciated the War department's desire to preserve the secrecy of the source of information it got from breaking the Japanese code, "I am sure that it could have been done without any attempt to deceive the public by a false pretense that my judgment had been the sole factor causing the failure of the army to fulfill its mission of defending the navy at Pearl Harbor."

"I am sure that an honest confession by the War department general staff of their failure to anticipate the surprise raid would have been understood by the public in the long run and even at the time. Instead, they 'passed the buck' to me and I have kept my silence until the opportunity of this public forum was presented to me."

Astounded By Complacency

Short said he was "more than astounded to learn of the complacency of the War department general staff with relation to so-called 'magic' (code breaking) intelligence." Marshal, Gerow and others testified previously that sending of the decoded texts of such messages to field commanders was halted for fear of leaks that might cause the Japanese to change their codes.

Short told the committee he was "obeying my instructions from Washington as I understood them" and was acting in accordance with what he said was the "little information" available to him which "did not give an accurate picture of the prospects of war."

Short said that when he took command at Hawaii he learned from Lt. Gen. Charles D. Herron, his predecessor, that Gen. Marshall had "definitely indicated his intention to direct personally any genuine pre-war alert."

He contended Marshall personally had ordered and "supervised" an all-out alert on June 17, 1940, adding:

"It was my expectation that if the chief of staff once again had information causing him to expect a 'trans-Pacific raid' against Oahu, he would follow the course he had set previously as an example."

HINT FORD OFFERS NEW WAGE BOOST

DETROIT, Jan. 22.—The Detroit News said today that the Ford Motor Co. will offer the United Auto Workers (CIO) another wage increase shortly which is expected to set a formula for the settlement of the wage disputes now gripping the nation.

The newspaper said high company and union sources said the new offer would probably be 18½ cents an hour, paralleling President Truman's recommendations in the steel dispute.

Ford's latest offer to the union was 17½ cents an hour, while the UAW has been holding out for 18½ cents. Ford and union negotiations were scheduled to be resumed today.
